

1. Bachelor Project Group Contract

This contract defines the expectations, responsibilities, and working principles of the bachelor project group. Its purpose is to ensure a productive collaboration, mutual respect, and successful completion of the project.

1.1. Purpose

The group agrees to collaborate professionally and responsibly in order to complete the bachelor project in accordance with academic requirements and deadlines.

1.2. Ambitions and Commitment

- All group members commit to actively contributing to the project.
 - The group aims to deliver a high-quality bachelor project.
 - Each member is expected to prioritize the project alongside other academic obligations.
 - Responsibilities are shared, but individual accountability is required.

1.3. Work Ethics

- Assigned tasks must be completed on time and at an agreed quality level.
 - If a member anticipates difficulties meeting a deadline, the group must be informed as early as possible.
 - Feedback must be constructive and focused on the work rather than the individual.
 - Differences in opinions and working styles must be respected.

1.4. Meetings

- All members are expected to attend scheduled meetings.
 - Members must be on time and prepared.
 - If a member cannot attend a meeting:
 - The group must be informed at least 24 hours in advance, unless an emergency occurs.
 - The absent member is responsible for reviewing meeting outcomes.
 - Repeated absence without valid reason may lead to redistribution of responsibilities.

1.5. Communication

- Agreed communication channels (e.g., Teams, Discord, Slack) must be checked regularly.
 - Important decisions must be documented and shared with the group.
 - Messages should normally be answered within 24 hours on weekdays.

1.6. Task Distribution

- Tasks are assigned collectively and must be clearly defined.
 - Each member is responsible for completing their assigned tasks.
 - Workload imbalances must be addressed openly and constructively.

1.7. Conflict Resolution

- Conflicts should be addressed early and discussed calmly within the group.
- If internal resolution is not possible, the project supervisor may be involved.
- All members agree to handle conflicts professionally and respectfully.

1.8. Academic Integrity

- All work must comply with university rules on academic honesty.
- Sources must be properly cited.
- All members share responsibility for the final submission.

1.9. Amendments

- This contract may be amended with the agreement of all group members.
- Any changes must be documented and shared.
